

INVITATION

Towards a Global Deal on Climate? Latest views from the EU, China & India

Monday 28 April 2008
12:00pm - 2:00pm, Chatham House, St James' Square, London

As part of their series 'From Bali to Copenhagen – The Climate Briefings' Chatham House, CSM, E3G and Chinadialogue invite you to a discussion on

'Global deal on climate? Latest views from EU, China & India'
with:

Nick Mabey, Co-Founder & Chief Executive, E3G
Ma Jun, Director, Institute of Public & Environmental Affairs (China)
Malini Mehra, Founder & Chief Executive, Centre for Social Markets (India)

Chaired by
Isabel Hilton, Editor, Chinadialogue

The last few months have seen mounting activity on the climate talks culminating in interesting positions emerging at Bangkok. The US, EU and emerging powers continue to be in the centre of the frame with bilateral and multilateral diplomacy stepping up several gears. Where are the talks going and what are the prospects for elements of a deal emerging in the coming months? Come and join us for some expert views from observers close to the issues - and bring your own insights and opinions.

---

To register, please send an email with "Global Deal – Chatham House" in the subject field and stating clearly your name and organisation to: sumana@csmworld.org

Please note that this invitation is personal. Should you wish for another person from your organisation to attend, please send us their name and contact details.

Thank you.